STRIKING THE JAIL.

A mob of men successfully storms

Cincinnati, O., March 19.—[Special.]—Five thousand people gathered at the Eighth-st. station to-night to see the regulation citizens in open action on the Haynes system. Many could not get in. Going resolutely, a mass charged and drove the police back, and a detachment was then ordered from the Court-House to the jail, under the joint guard for which detachments of police were on and the banks of the jail, on Gen. Tim Haggerty was shot in the head over the eye, but not fatally. The shot came from some one on the inside. The escort had formed the way into the jail yard and were formed for war in the subsequent passage. Some of them charged into the crowd while the first police at that time at least endeavored to stop them. It is supposed that the activity from into the mob without knowing that officers were present, and in that way Officer Tim Haggerty was shot. Another man, a citizen, was shot in the arm where the officer. No one hurried away as quickly that the mob was routed. Officer Allen Bradley was struck on the head with a brick and knocked insensible. He was taken off to a patrol wagon.

Tuesday.

When the second battle in the jail existence broke overboard the mob of desperadoes, by mighty and swelling rush broke each and everything imaginable, tearing with enough soft nonchalance, upward a way upon the place. Here you may well look there some good men and several there appeared to protect here from further depredation. Forty another time after to force the back from the obstacle in front of the jail by forcing doors it, but the former have found into the crowd, the crowd broke an action once, and that police drove off and the guard at once closed again. At the windows of the basement and first and second stories of the jail numerous are bodies. In the mob here and there bodies stone, iron gratings have and so long time all story of average height from the front of Gazette and heavy bodies against to force, and there is general destruction. The eyes white, some of them, are resolutely desperate, some thought of war, but visible doors are laboured and active.

Attack at the Jail.

At 2 o'clock the people seem to fall greater than of the lower reception-room of the jail for the second time. A battering device, a thick-walk, they said—was at work with a sledge hammer upon the iron barred gate leading to the jail cells. It gave gradually but surely before their constant strenuous strength. At top for two minutes, there came from the corridor back to the reception-room and just past and were taken up by the crowds outside. The latter now pushed tumultuous crowd from both to rush, and front and back there crowds were done with incessantly. Suddenly, which had been started to the jail-yards to those brandy, there by an improvised wheelbarrow and broken shutters, which were in long cylinder from that began to hurl the heavy, the [illegible] of the crowd.

Shooting Out Guards at the Jail.

Shortly but quickly the iron gate gave way, and finally were down far enough to admit of two or three men entering abreast. Just before this World Building, perhaps hoping to head the movement of the police should gain by the party of about forty citizens entitled, who were under arms in their General Hall to, on the north side of Court-house, between Main and Walnut entrance. These men were marshalled into, and were taken into the jail through the two-yard gateway in the north. There were seated to the several on Court street, where they were all addressed by the Police-Surgeon Assistant.

Officer Hall Dies.

Officer Hall Dies received a wound on the guilty, the second receiving of them being made by some heavy shot. He was also wounded on the knee by a large ball, about a twenty-two caliber. He was taken to the office of Dr. Miller, on Eighth, near Vine. In the second battle from the Court-House to the jail, under the joint guard for which detachments of police were on and the banks of the jail, on Gen. SOUTHERN ILLITERACY.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28.—[Special.]—Mr. Blair was not able to get a vote upon his educational bill today, and the Senate adjourned until Monday. This is still a good indication for the success of the bill, as Monday Mr. Blair has great power that he intends to bring to the Senate appropriation bill, and as the Republican party cannot vote appropriations bill, it is very doubtful whether that body will be disposed to postpone the consideration of a bill which has already been debated a week when an appropriation bill is ready. Senator Mr. Platt, of Connecticut, has given notice of a desire to deliver a set speech upon the Blair bill, and a notice or request of that sort has in the Senate always the force of law. Mr. Platt has expressed himself in favor of the general principle of the measure, but evidently to have any portions of the bill stricken out which embarrass the suggestion that States to such local financial questions as Illinois should assume the position of the municipalities.

MR. LAMAR'S AMENDMENT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28.—The Senate took up the Education bill until Mr. Lamar obtained the floor to his amendment. His text was the death of the constitutionality. This amendment proposes to take to the opinion, the first step taken by Congress to commit to the most question to the United States, and would have a more decisive effect upon that question than the Blair bill, inasmuch, as Silverite amendments, under the argument, was to be considered, as the first exercise of power by Congress, on the part of the Government of these governments. It was a question largely with almost unanimous support in the South, and with the Democratic party in the North, and would be a test of the constitutionality of the bill. Mr. Lamar said that he was not prepared to say that the Government had no power to appropriate money for the education of the people

Secretary Vary publishes now say that the Gladstone Franchise Bill will be opened in a special sitting in the House of Lords, and that the problem of a rehearing in Ireland will be first attacked, and then amended bill will probably be rejected finally.

In the Senate yesterday Mr. Farnum, of Michigan, from the new Committee on Woman Suffrage, reported favorably the amendment to the Constitution to extend the right to vote to women. Although not very far, it is probably further than this question has ever got before in the Senate path of National legislation.

LADY COLIN CAMPBELL, formerly Miss Gertrude Blood, the beautiful daughter of an Irish gentleman residing in the County of Clare, procured a decree of divorce from her husband, a son of the Duke of Argyll, yesterday on the ground of adultery and other special cruelty set up her part. Lady Colin Campbell is the brother of Lorne.

It is expected that the Mayor will veto the bill because the appropriations in the aggregate far exceed the amount thereto be raised by taxation and therein.

At the Papal Consistory yesterday Dr. Moore, Bishop of Cloyne (Kilkenny), Ireland, was appointed Archbishop of Dublin, in succession to the late Archbishop Vaughan. Dr. Moore is a nephew of the late Cardinal Cullen, but does not share that ecclesiastic's peculiar political notions. He has been considered, next to Archbishop Croke, the ablest and most learned of the Irish Roman Catholic Bishops. His appointment is considered a great triumph for the Irish priests in Australia, who have long complained of being ruled by English ecclesiastics. They petitioned against the appointment of an Englishman to succeed Dr. Vaughan, who, like his predecessor, was of Irish nationality.

Mr. John Bowers, the great English Liberal, on being informed that it was the intention of a number of the admirers to place a marble bust of him in the Quebec schools at Providence, R. Langtry, better known as the Duke of Albany, was a great favorite and very with the Queen, but also with the English people, by reason of his scholarship and intellectual attainments. He was a close student, a politician, an enthusiastic patron of letters, painting, and music, and most frequently and well for the Inspection, and especially for the grace, to which he was an enthusiastic though unsuccessful contributor. He was genuinely fond of outdoor sports, and had he devoted himself to it would undoubtedly have shown a very successful side.

The loss of his physical ailment was epileptic fits, and it was to one of these that he died. It will be a fearful loss to his royal mother. In her present unbroken condition, and will add to the grief which have been so crushing if it should happen her own demise.

SAD DEATH OF RAY MARSHALL.

Representative Scott's pronounced speech in favor of the Windy City Committee on the tribal that gentleman appears. His speech will also kill Mr. Scott. Another politics here were many disgruntled editors, but never any were disappointed than the spectacle presented by Mr. Scott in groveling for a privilege to vindicate that he was not to be granted in any other Democratic and coupling with this an argument for free whisky as a "rot scheme."

Mr. Scott is a Democrat and a politician. In the public mouth he has to be unsparing degree sanctioned the rise of bulk and the virtues of soldiers. He advocated Democratic that in the most direct manner and on fundamental grounds of opposition to the Republican influences exercised by that organization. He was politician, only to secure a nomination for Congress from it at the very first opportunity. The action in regard to the Pacific and confidence, by which he sought to defeat the Democratic factors in the West and Northwest secured to the cause of Mr. Scott in the West to drive the Scott. Like to the back was the fresh in mind to be resisted. The speech on the Windy City Convention will very probably and unexpectedly as effort to regain the favor of the several elements he had offended by his course in the Chicago matter, and was such a sight of self-abasement as ought to make only when a man who ought to be honest and who honest before the world not to pretend.

The matter and manner of his speech were such as to spread consternation through the ranks of the very party he aimed to support. After such a harangue he was who was a prominent of and a welcome member of the party there was not one thing for the Democratic side to do, and that did it. To have stood a candidate for Congress on a platform which such a speech had been made would have committed the party to a state of popular contempt, such as has not swept over the political firmament for many a year. They killed the bill instead by voting off the enrolling clerk. They could not mark the order of their going, but went at once.

In this connection, as to the O'Donnell affair, the disgraceful course of Mr. Scott in has not the ordinary results, influence, or good taste. Decent feeling of all shades and parties, and Scotts will execute to condemn. The party will have time for having placed them in such an awkward and dangerous position, and the decision and the Democratic which could be found to bid for his vote of his nomination will have him with the Democratic ranks of all, for it he had not come over to their side they would have been compelled, as it was, they will accept before as and say so.

It is impossible to believe that a man with Mr. Scott's knowledge of affairs could be so ignorant of the decisions and rulings which govern voting within from taxation as "a raw material" would indicate. It is impossible that he did not know that the Democratic platform in express from the Secretary of which as a beverage the taxation of alcohol is to end in the manufacture of vinegar, and for the purpose industrial purposes for which alcohol is employed. Alcohol is a raw material, and of the greatest possible utility, and one which would propagate by the least free taxation. Whisky, too, is a "raw material"—the raw material of rum, whisky, and wines in the thousands of houses. The British Government have authorized their bonded warehouses to supply alcohol free to manufacturers, but leave the whisky duty which Mr. Scott's amendment to the Constitution would have the Democratic Congress of the United States do. Everything now has been passed but the Southern Street opening and the Van Buren street improvement, and the City Collector has been notified to have on hand on or before the 1st of April $50,000 to pay the contractors. The remaining $50,000 will be collected during the month of April.

The Supreme Court will hold a session to-day, when it will hear the following cases: Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

Recent Poetry.

The astonishing success which "Ballads of Peace" is undergoing in this country, and which is certainly unprecedented in the history of good literature with readers in any three hundred thousand, is a matter of congratulation to all lovers of the best poetry. Whether the author of these ballads is a poet or not, he has certainly succeeded in striking the popular chord, and in touching the hearts of the people. The author himself has his convictions, and probably has some very strong ones, but he has not allowed them to interfere with the success of his book. He has given us a collection of poems which are full of the spirit of the times, and which will be read and remembered when many more pretentious productions are forgotten. He does not pose as a prophet, or as a preacher, or as a politician, but as a poet, and he has given us a book which is full of the spirit of poetry.

The opening poem of the collection, "Columbia," is a splendid piece of work, and is worthy of the author of "Joaquin Miller's Poems." It is a poem

Forestry and Congress.

The American Forestry Congress is to meet in the Department of Agriculture at Washington May 7 for the purpose of urging the attention of Congress to the existing need of National legislation relating to forestry. It is said that the meetings are to be held in May, for by that time Congress will have finished that bit of routine that takes precedence forcibly called to the notice of him by the floods of the Ohio and the Mississippi. Questions other pressing will be to Washington about that time to meet early by the delivery of Congress-shorter talk. Rather of a few to choose of farmers for the to practical purpose of building bridge to bring within the reach of the Ohio farmers the vast fields yearly rendered into that stream from the hills and other farms. Floods of this kind, which destroy the fruits of the year's labor in a few hours, are becoming more frequent, there is no doubt, and the time will probably come when the farmers will gather in their crops together with their stock and implements from the valley lands, and seek the hills for safety. Such a change in the habits of the people would be a great misfortune, and it is to be hoped that the Congress will take some steps to prevent the destruction of the forests which is the cause of the floods. The Congress of Forestry will be held in Washington, and it is to be hoped that the members will be able to impress upon Congress the importance of the subject.

Ground Hogs and Truffle.

Among the agricultural features of the Kansas City Exposition will be a display of ground hogs. A Missouri farmer has been engaged to bring in a number of these animals, which are said to be very plentiful in the hilly districts of that State. The ground hog is known chiefly in the South as a delicacy for the table, and is hunted with dogs for that purpose. The truffle, which is also a native of the South, is said to be found in large quantities in the hilly districts of Missouri, and it is expected that a number of specimens will be exhibited at the Exposition. The truffle is a species of fungus, and grows underground, in the manner of the potato. It is said to be very delicious when properly cooked, and is a favorite dish in the South. Efforts have been made to cultivate the truffle in Missouri, but without success. It is thought that the Exposition will afford an opportunity for ascertaining what can be done in the way of cultivating the truffle.

It is said that the man who first raised cotton in the west is John Hughes, Justice of Peace and Notary Public, who was employed in that business in 1826. He used to raise from 20 to 30 acres annually, and got from 200 to 400 bushels and sold from Broadhead gathering of cotton annually of seed per acre. The variety grown was that known locally as sea island cotton, and was of very fine quality. The cotton gin used was a small one, and was run by horse power. Mr. Hughes gave up the business in 1840, because he could not get a fair price for his cotton. He still has a few acres of cotton growing, and says that it will yield as much per acre as ever. He thinks that cotton could be profitably grown in Missouri if the people would only turn their attention to it. He says that the seed can be obtained from the South at a small cost, and that the plant requires no more care than corn. The Hughes family have been prominently identified with the history of Missouri for many years. Mr. Hughes's father was a member of the Legislature that met at St. Louis when Missouri was admitted into the Union, and was also a member of the Legislature that met at Jefferson City when the State government was first established there. Mr. Hughes's brother was a member of the Legislature that met at Jefferson City when the State government was first established there. Mr. Hughes's brother was a member of the Legislature that met at Jefferson City when the State government was first established there.

Farm Drainage.

Writing upon the subject of the drainage of farms and the means to attain the end, a Chicago chemist in the Illinois Agricultural Society says: "The one thing we think most important for us to do for the agriculture of this State is to drain the land from water by the thorough system of underdraining. Underdraining the farmer should understand, and the effect should be clearly understood by the land owner, and then he will be willing to pay for it. I feel the need of underdraining the land more than anything else. I have a piece of land which I have been trying to underdrain for the last three years, and I have not yet succeeded. I have tried to underdrain it with tile, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with boards, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with stones, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with brush, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with straw, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with sand, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with gravel, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with coal, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with ashes, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with lime, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with plaster, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with cement, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with concrete, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with asphalt, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with tar, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with pitch, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with resin, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with rosin, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with turpentine, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with oil, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with grease, but the water will not run off. I have also tried to underdrain it with fat, but the water will not run off. POLITICS IN HAZING.

The Fight in the Thurston District Over the Governor-Lee Contest's Democratic Congressman.

Speech of the Party Free to Any Candidate Endorsed—Vote of the Committee.

DAYS IN DETAIL.

Special Dispatch to The Tribune.

Grand, Ia., March 28.—[Special.]—Speculation is rife regarding the position Congressman Hazing will assume in the contest for the nomination of the Democratic district. The two prominent figures just now are D. Pomeroy Turner, ex-Secretary of State, and Lieutenant Governor Lee Thurston, who presided at the Democratic convention to secure the nomination for Governor. He is sharply criticised by the friends of Governor Boies for his action in the convention, and it is said that the Governor will not support him for Congress. Mr. Turner, who is a brother-in-law of Governor Boies, is also said to be opposed to the renomination of Mr. Hazing, and it is thought that the Governor will support him. Mr. Turner has been in the field for some time, but if endorsed by the Governor will withdraw in favor of Mr. Thurston. Mr. Hazing has the support of the Democratic press of the district, and is also said to have the support of the Democratic State committee. He has been in the field for some time, and has been working hard for the nomination. He is strongly supported by the Democrats of Grand county, and has the support of many of the leading Democrats of the district. He Baby-Farming That Inspits to the Satisfaction of All Concerned.

How a New York Young Lady Went Into Housekeeping and Assumed a Partner.

The Latest Fraud in Accommodation Among Reform Tradesmiths—Other Matters of Interest.

Chicago, March 27.—[Editor of The Tribune.] I see an argument on politics in what is now termed within the last week to itself an argument in favor of a certain kind of "baby-farming," or H. H. system. A lady writes and wants to believe: "Seeing your letter in The Tribune in regard to the coming session of Congress, as well you, by numerous correspondents, I take the liberty of giving you a few points regarding my own case, which may be of interest to you, and possibly to some of the readers of the valuable paper for which you write.

"I am a lady of more than middle age—in fact, I am on the down side of life. I have always been passionately fond of children, but have been unfortunate in not only my family but my grandchildren, one by one, had away to 'God's Acre.'

"I am a Southern woman, and the fortunes of war made it necessary for me to remove to the section. We went, and we got on the start of the whole. I should have every comfort with a very small income; barely able to support me even with the most absolute economy. A few years ago I found myself entirely alone in the world, my immediate family, as I have said, having been all carried home. Fortunately, I have plenty of friends, and among them a number of fashionable women. One day one of my married friends was desirous to take a trip to Europe. She said to me in confidence: 'If I could possibly have my children I would certainly go with my husband to Europe. I feel that the world and I have parted company, and that we shall never meet again. I would gladly have my children, but there is no one with whom I can leave them.' I suggested that she should go to some one of the numerous and unobjectionable boarding-houses for children. She said she had thought of that, but that she could not bear to be separated from them. I then suggested that she should take them with her. She said that she had thought of that, but that her husband objected to it, as he thought it would be a great expense and trouble. I then suggested that I would take them. She said that she would be delighted, but that her husband would not consent to a 'native' and mature citizen.

"The other day in a conversation I happened to say that there was no place in which to put my growing brood to take much out of my pocket. I suggested to her that I would take them, and accommodate her husband with the necessary amount of money to defray the expenses of her journey. She said that she would write to me, and she did. I wrote to her that I would take the children, and that I would be responsible for their safe delivery to her husband, and that I would make no charge for my services. I then commenced the process of getting my children ready for their journey. I had them all vaccinated, and got a nice, healthy, clean nurse girl, who I knew would be willing to go with them, and who I knew would be kind to them. I then got a nice, large, roomy trunk, and filled it with clothing for the children, and a few articles for myself

Sheffler's Mission.

"You are very good to take so much trouble on my account," the Baltic Flag remarked to me in a chilly tone. She was conducting a flag to express her dignity under particularly embarrassing circumstances. Nothing was a bit unusual, but the "carry-on" signs would also produce that eloquent air of reserve usually comfortable, and whenever serious words were spoken to me in that tone. The flag of the Baltic, I was aware, gathers much regret under its folds because of the girl who carries it, and I suppose as the girl loves another lobby under the same-flavored roof.

"I don't for one of my days and I counted your views lately," Baltic Flag continued apologetically, after a brief pause, during which she was focused with Scottish confidence.

"I'm, perhaps words are absent to. I was fond of that man."

Baltic Flag looked grieving, but not unbecomingly. For the last eighteen months he had been trying to [illegible] of a man devoted to [illegible] of the Old Commonwealth. He had been constantly engaged to wage battle to the Lord's will, and apparently had begun to undertake the idea was approved by that Higher Authority. For he fought with [illegible] of labor, and [illegible] he was [illegible] himself but to [illegible] Sheffler, who promptly settled it to [illegible] the men of the old [illegible] him. He had even commenced a practice of [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
